To Whom it may concern

This is to say that I consider Peter Feuchtwanger an unusual musician, extremely keen to know the "right way", as a teacher, extraordinary, he seems to know immediately what is wrong with a pianist and he explains so easily the reason - what is wrong and what is right and puts the pupil at ease and draws out the best. In fact, I do not know anyone like Mr. Feuchtwanger who can so quickly lead the artist in the right direction. As a Composer, he is very original, very individual - Eastern influence. He is not at all just "another modern Composer".

All in all I can recommend him highly anywhere, everywhere.

Sincerely,

Shura Cherkassky
